Political Eyes on New Hampshire

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New Hampshire voters launched the 1968 presidential selection drive today with a primary in which the size of the write-in vote may set the tone for the rest of the campaign.

The write-in for President Johnson was the first crucial test of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's protest campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

And a write-in effort by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's backers was the first test of voter strength for former vice president Richard M. Nixon's presidential bid.

Nixon, already looking beyond the New Hampshire primary, challenged Rockefeller Monday to announce as a candidate and meet him in the Nebraska and Indiana as well as the Oregon primaries.

There were indications Rockefeller—who has said he would accept a presidential draft—might permit his name to remain on Oregon's May 28 free-for-all primary ballot.

Rockefeller invited members of the draft-Rockefeller movement in Oregon to meet with him in New York next weekend. An aide said they asked to appraise the governor of their efforts before he decides whether to take his name off the Oregon ballot.

Voters in Mississippi also were at the polls today—where white conservative Charles H. Griffin was the heavy favorite in a runoff against Negro leader Charles Evers for a vacated congressional seat.

McCarthy ended his New Hampshire campaign by accusing Johnson backers of broadcasting a lie and "attacking the motives and loyalty of any man who dares run in an election against the President."

The Minnesota Democrat said Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., was claiming in radio advertisements that McCarthy would "honor draft dodgers and deserters"—and demanded McIntyre take the radio spots off the air.

In other political developments:

Four Republicans and four Democrats were placed on Oregon's presidential primary ballot. The Republicans are Nixon, Rockefeller, Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., and California Gov. Ronald Reagan. The Democrats are Johnson, McCarthy, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and former Alabama Gov. George Wallace. Any of the eight can withdraw their names by declaring they are not candidates.

Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette announced he will be a democratic candidate for governor. His grandfather was the late Sen. Robert M. "Fighting Bob" La Follette Sr. and his father was the late Sen. Robert M. La Follette Jr.

Postman Is Reinstated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bearded, long-haired postman Bob R. Barnum, 25, was reinstated Monday after a two week layoff, while higher echelons in Washington decide whether he wears his hair too long.

Barnum, a two-year career employe, was put to work at an inside desk job away from the exposure of his usual delivery route.

Postmaster Lim P. Lee sent a photo of Barnum to assistant postmaster general Richard Murphy who was taken aback at the getups of some postmen on a visit to San Francisco in January.

New regulations governing appearance of employes were issued last week banning beards, beads and bangles. But they failed to give any specifications on the length of hair except to say it must be kept reasonable as judged by community standards.

Oklahoma Lashed by Snowstorm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A massive late-winter snowstorm swept the southern plains today, howled across the Mississippi Valley and bore down on the Northeast.

Oklahoma was all but immobilized by its worst storm of the winter. A wind-drive haymaker packing gusts to 40 to 50 miles an hour. Up to 8 inches of snow was blowing into 4-and 5-foot drifts, stalling hundreds of motorists across the state.

Hotels and motels were jammed with travelers unable to continue during the night, either by highway or by air. Most scheduled airline flights in and out of the state ended by late afternoon Monday.

The 24-hour siege of wind and snow left four persons dead in Oklahoma traffic accidents.

Several eastern Oklahoma towns and many rural communities were without electrical power for varying periods. Also affected were some 3,500 homes in Tulsa. Telephone service was out in many areas of the state.

Scores of schools, including the University of Tulsa, suspended classes for the day.

There were near blizzard conditions in adjacent sections of north-central Texas during the night, snarling highway traffic and closing numerous schools in the panhandle-plains area.

The storm which erupted in New Mexico and Texas early Monday swept across Arkansas and Missouri Monday night and spread a 5- to 6-inch blanket of snow up the length of the Ohio Valley before dawn.

Snow emergency plans went into effect in western Maryland where the snow piled up at the rate of 2 inches an hour in one three-hour period. Schools were closed in one county and more cancellations were expected.

Wind gusts of 55 miles an hour lashed St. Louis before dawn, cutting visibility to zero in swirling heavy snow.

Travelers warnings were in effect for parts of five states from northeastern Texas into central Illinois and northern Indiana.

The Weather Bureau issued heavy-snow warnings for Ohio, Kentucky, Western portions of Pennsylvania and New York for today and tonight.

The storm generating the heavy snows triggered tornadoes and soaking rains in Alabama and Mississippi. Twisters were sighted near Greenwood, Miss., and Huntsville, Ala., though no serious damage was reported.

Compass Plants

Leaves of compass plants point north and south, a characteristic caused by the twisting of the leaf stalks. Many theories have been advanced as to the reason. One explanation is that the leaves bend not to escape the heavy midday sunlight but to get the full early morning and late afternoon sunlight.

Violence in Chicago School Busing

CHICAGO (AP)—Negro children return to eight newly integrated elementary schools on the northwest side today as participants in a bitterly debated busing program that started Monday.

A fire bomb was hurled through a window of one of the schools hours before classes began Monday and absenteeism was above normal at some of the eight schools involved.

But otherwise, 249 pupils, almost all of them Negroes from two overcrowded West Side schools, were bused to the eight less-crowded schools without any problem.

Crowds of white adults gathered at three of the schools, and there was some shouting and jeering as the neatly dressed children filed from buses and carried their books through a cordon of onlookers.

Schools Supt. James F. Redmond reported the program was going "very well, with no confrontations and no interference with the children."

Officials reported 709 pupils were absent—almost double the normal—and 4,016 were present at the eight schools.

The busing program was proposed by Redmond and approved by the Chicago Board of Education last week in a reversal of a previous stand. Redmond advanced the proposal in an attempt to halt the slide in numbers of integrated schools in Chicago.

Griffin Is Favored in Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—White candidate Charles H. Griffin was a heavy favorite to defeat Negro leader Charles Evers today in a runoff for Congress.

Secretary of State Heber Lader predicted 125,000 votes in the 12 southwest Mississippi counties, including the cities of Jackson, Vicksburg, McComb and Natchez, of the 3rd congressional district. Polls open at 8 a.m. EST, and will close at 6 p.m. in all 309 precincts.

Evers, 45, predicting victory, made the strongest Negro bid in modern Mississippi history for a seat in Congress. On Feb. 27 he was first in a field of seven with 33,706 votes of 114,871 cast.

However, a white majority of 125,000 votes was expected to insure victory for Griffin.

Griffin headed five other white candidates with 28,927 votes two weeks ago, but has remained quiet most of the runoff campaign, stressing his 18 years as top Washington aide to Gov. John Bell Williams, who held the seat 21 years before his inauguration in mid-January.

Witnesses Called in Hawkins Case

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH
Associated Press Writer
MORRILLTON, Ark. (AP) — Attorneys for Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins scheduled testimony from five witnesses today as they continued their efforts to account for $63,299 of the county funds he handled between 1963 and 1966.

Former Asst. Atty. Gen. Jack L. Lessenberry of Little Rock and former Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon said they would call former Justices of the Peace Hugh Jones, Roy Sims and J. C. Stroud, Circuit Clerk Millard Richardson and Chief Deputy L. E. "Buddy" Riggs.

Hawkins is charged in a taxpayers' suit being tried in Chancery Court here with misappropriating "substantial sums" of the county's money. The $63,299 represents bonds posted by motorists arrested for traffic violations.

Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana and Oscar Fendler of Blytheville, attorneys for taxpayers, contend Hawkins conspired with justices of the peace to defraud the county in a scheme involving bond forfeitures.

Lessenberry and Gordon presented records Monday for more than $25,000 and they promised to come up with a total of 210 exhibits that would account for "80 to 95 per cent" of the funds that Hawkins handled.

Lessenberry said the remainder would be accounted for by "partial" documentation and eyewitnesses to cash transactions.

In his opening statement before Circuit Judge Bobby Stegall of Nashville, who is sitting as a special chancellor, Lessenberry accused Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of trying to use the suit for "political leverage" with Hawkins, who controls the county's Democratic machinery.

Most of the taxpayers involved are members of a political reform group headed by Morrilton newspaperman Gene Wirges, a Rockefeller ally whose investigations led to the filing of the suit.

Lessenberry said Rockefeller offered to drop the suit in 1966 if Hawkins "would take a walk" during the general election so that Rockefeller could carry the county in his race against Democrat Jim Johnson.

Lessenberry said Rockefeller extended the offer through Lonzo Ross of Conway, a Republican state committeeman, and Len Blylock, who now is now state Welfare Commissioner.

Ross said at Conway that Rockefeller didn't know anything about what he did.

Says Integrated Education Is Essential

By JACK MILLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The report by the President's riot commission lends support to those agreeing with U.S. Commissioner of Education Harold Howe's contention that "for an American citizen, segregated education cannot be excellent."

Howe's recent statement refers to the racially unbalanced schools of the North as well as to segregated Southern schools. The riot commission report contends integrated education "is essential to the future of American society. In this last summer's disorders, we have seen the consequences of racial isolation at all levels, and of attitudes toward race on both sides, produced by three centuries of myth, ignorance and bias."

But the government not only has no authority to move against racial imbalance as such, it is barred from doing so by an amendment to the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

It can—and does—provide federal funds to help schools, by busing or other means, to overcome racial imbalance for educational reasons.

Federal officials acknowledge the actions of local school districts in attacking racial imbalance have been small in view of the large-scale racial separation in the big cities of the North.

But Dr. Gregory Amler, director of the Office of Education's equal opportunity operation, says "we're hearing of an awful lot of school districts that are trying to do something" to reduce imbalance.

The government soon will begin its first major investigation of discrimination against Negroes in Northern school systems. Discriminating districts will lose federal aid.

But this effort cannot be directed head-on at racial imbalance. It will be limited to requiring school boards to assure that Negro pupils are treated equally with whites.

Congress could pass a law authorizing federal action against imbalance. But that seems highly unlikely for now. Even liberal Northern Democrats would shy away from such action because of powerful pressure from white voters against enforced mixing—and the busing that often goes with it.

The open-housing law under consideration in Congress clearly would lead to more school integration. But federal officials say housing patterns would change only very slowly.

What holds back any big national move against racial imbalance is that the 1954 Supreme Court decision and the 1964 Civil Rights Act struck down school segregation by law but not segregation that comes about because of where people live.

Many federal officials believe racial imbalance in the North will not be changed for many years unless the federal courts, and finally the Supreme Court, rule against it.

Some officials predict that may well happen within the next year or two.

Derrick Bell, a legal expert of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, predicts the Supreme Court will in effect rule against all school segregation.

He predicts the court will conclude that Negro youngsters cannot get an equal educational opportunity in schools that are all or mostly Negro.

Yet even such a decision would hardly bring instant, nationwide mixing of white and Negro pupils. The government still hasn't brought about complete compliance with the court's decision of 14 years ago.

Hopes Fade for Copper Settlement

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances of a breakthrough soon in the 8-month-old copper strike have faded after union negotiators delayed action on a $1.07 per hour contract offer and renewed demands for company-wide bargaining.

The 40-month contract offer by Phelps Dodge Corp., one of four major strikebound copper firms, would have covered some 5,000 workers at its Arizona mines and El Paso, Tex., refinery, but not at its other operations in New York and Arkansas.

The offer, which Phelps Dodge termed the best ever made in the copper industry, was "neither accepted nor rejected at this time" by several hundred leaders of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers union. Copper workers were averaging $3.28 an hour when the strike started.

The Steelworkers set another meeting for Tuesday night and ordered its union negotiators to return to the bargaining table meanwhile to demand simultaneous contract expiration dates at all Phelps Dodge operations.

But a Phelps Dodge spokesman said "there is nothing else to bargain about" until the unions accept or reject its wage offer. He said the company would continue negotiations for the other plants not covered by the contract offer.

Kennecott Copper Corp. was reported near a similar contract offer to the unions, but a Kennecott spokesman said, "The issue of company-wide bargaining is still our No. 1 problem."

The 26 striking unions, representing more than 50,000 workers, are bargaining jointly for the first time in the industry's history and their demands for company-wide bargaining, similar wage hikes and simultaneous contract expiration dates has dragged out the longest copper strike in history.

The other two firms, Anaconda Co. and American Smelting & Refining Co., were reported still far from settlement. All four copper firms have rejected union demands for company-wide bargaining and simultaneous contract expiration dates, insisting on holding to the old pattern of negotiating separately for their various mines, smelters, refineries and fabricating plants.

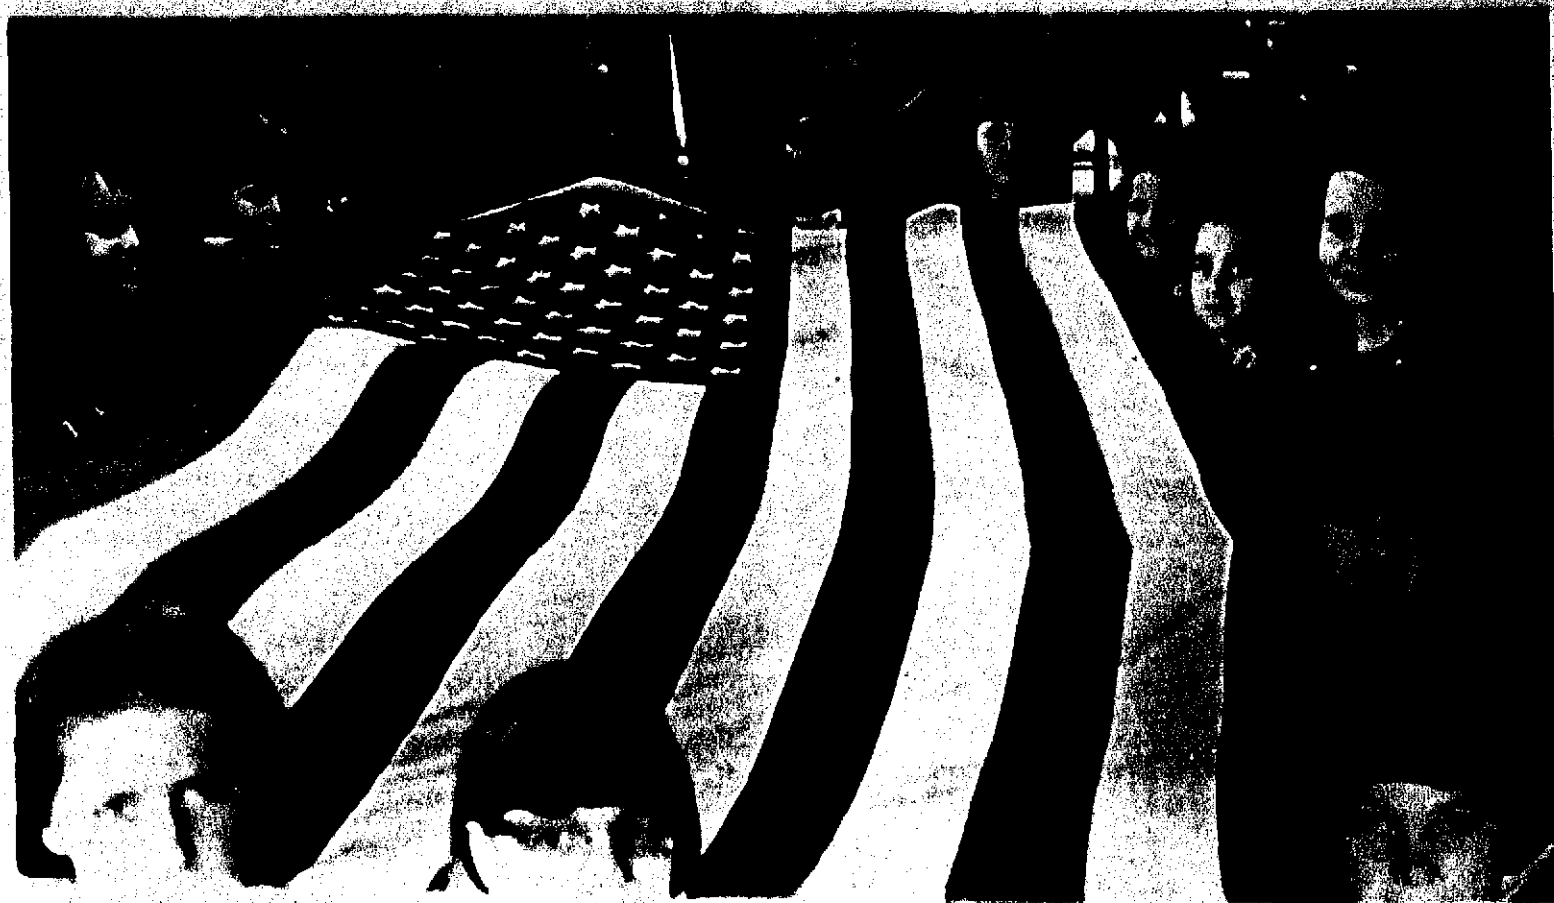

Harvard to Bury More Books

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Harvard library plans to dig up Harvard Yard to make way for more books, the University has announced.

Four levels of underground space to store 1,100,000 books will be excavated on the east side of the yard by the library, already the largest university library in the world and the third largest library in the United States.

President Nathan M. Pusey said Monday a national committee will seek $5 million for the construction and re-landscaping of the yard when the construction is completed.

Dear Helen: I am a girl who has a very close boy cousin. We're good buddies, and share each other's problems as we're the same age.

A while ago I read that boys are more excitable than girls, but I never knew it applied to my cousin until he tried to be more than cousinly. At first I thought he was teasing, but he keeps on and now I think he has something else in mind. He has never tried anything bad, but he makes me nervous. In a sense, he is even making me afraid of boys.

Could you suggest something, Helen?—D.E.N.

Dear D: Yes: a fast stomp on the instep and a quick elbow in the ribs. Sometimes boy cousins need gentle lessons in "relativity."—H.

Dear Helen: When I was in high school, I was a good little pure angel, but now that I am in college, well, frankly, I like my boys to be more "aware." I'm not happy with just a good-night kiss, though I can keep making-out under control. Okay, so I enjoy parking out by the old rock quarry.

This new guy is terrific and I'm crazy about him, but he brings me straight home. He actually blushed the first time he held my hand, and he hasn't got much farther since. We have dated four times now, and all I get is a quick kiss at the door.

Should I let him know I'm READY AND WILLING?

Dear R and W: Your letter makes me realize the boy wasn't kidding when he said "Dames are so aggressive nowadays that before I can tell them I'm not that kind of boy I AM that kind of boy!"

Down, girl! You don't know how lucky you are.—H.

Dear Helen: (Pardon me, I mean "Mom")

You said no one has mentioned Leap Year. Let me be the first: Leap Year is here again, girls, so be on the lookout for that dashing young man you'd love to love. Legal chasing-times comes but once every four years: take advantage!

Reliefers Run Into Roadblocks

By HERSHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three pitchers who have known better times—Dick Radatz, Jim O'Toole and Steve Barber—ran into roadblocks Monday along the baseball comeback trail.

Radatz, the once-mighty Monster of the Boston Red Sox bullpen, is trying to win a spot on the Chicago Cubs' relief corps. He came on in the fourth inning with the Cubs trailing San Francisco 2-1 in their exhibition game.

Radatz walked the first three men, uncorked two wild pitches and hit a batter and two runs were in. Manager Leo Durocher yanked him when he walked the first two batters in the next inning. The Giants went on to a 7-2 victory.

O'Toole, a 19-game winner in Cincinnati's 1961 pennant push and now trying to catch on with the pitching-rich Chicago White Sox, fared somewhat better. But he still was clipped for two runs in three innings and was the losing pitcher as the Los Angeles Dodgers trounced the Chisox 7-2.

Barber's misfortune took the form of an eight-run second inning in the New York Yankees' 11-7 loss to Washington. Barber compiled a 10-18 record last season with Baltimore and New York and showed signs of regaining his 20-game form of 1963.

But Washington teed off on him with two-run doubles by Paul Casanova and Eddie Brinkman and a 450-foot, three-run homer by Mike Epstein.

One player received the pink slip Monday. Tito Fuentes, who has spent the past few seasons at shortstop, second base and on the San Francisco bench, was optioned to the Giants' Phoenix farm club.

Fuentes was last heard of in the Dominican Republic several weeks ago and a Giants' spokesman said he had missed too much training to catch up now. Otherwise, the Grapefruit and Cactus League developments were what you might expect after less than a week of exhibition games. The Oakland Athletics started their first-stringers in a so-called B squad game and then had to call on the scrubs to beat Pittsburgh 4-3.

Someone forgot to tell the pitchers they're supposed to be ahead of the hitters. The world champion St. Louis Cardinals edged Boston 6-5 in 10 innings in a rematch of last October's World Series.

Besides the Senator-Yankee slugfest, there was another 11-7 game with Bob Raudman's pinch three-run homer propelling Cincinnati to victory over Pittsburgh's 'A' squad. And Detroit, with Jim Northrup and Ed Mathews driving in three runs apiece, walloped Philadelphia 9-5.

Orlando Cepeda, the National League's Most Valuable Player, outlegged an infield hit to drive in the winning run for St. Louis. Cepeda had homered earlier, along with teammate Mike Shannon and Boston's Reggie Smith, Mike Andrews and Gene Oliver.

The big Red Sox guns—Carl Yastrzemski, Tony Conigliaro and George Scott—failed to hit in seven at-bats.

The Mets edged Houston 4-3 in 11 innings on a bases-loaded walk to Jerry Morales, a rookie outfielder. Woodie Held drove in one run and scored the other as the California Angels edged Cleveland 2-1.

Atlanta beat Minnesota 6-4 in an error-filled night game.

Houston, which has held the top position since upsetting defending champion UCLA Jan. 20, wound up in the No. 1 spot today in the final Associated Press major college basketball poll.

The Cougars, who have romped past 29 opponents without a loss this season, received 253 points, 12 more than UCLA, which was a clear-cut choice for the top spot last season when it went unbeaten.

Houston's total was built on 19 votes for first and seven for second. UCLA's figures were the exact opposite.

St. Bonaventure, at 23-0 the only other undefeated team in the country, placed third, but only one other team, No. 9 Louisville, retained its spot from last week.

Kentucky, which was idle last week, and North Carolina, winner of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament, switched places, Kentucky slipping to fifth and North Carolina moving into fourth.

Duke, the 12-10 victim of an effective North Carolina State stall, plummeted from sixth to 10th, creating a shift among three other positions.

New Mexico climbed into sixth and Columbia into seventh, each advancing one notch, while Davidson leapt from past Louisville, from 10th to eighth.

All members of the Top Ten have concluded their regular-season schedules, but all are involved in post-season play. Duke begins play against Oklahoma City in the National Invitation Tournament Thursday night while the others compete in the NCAA tournament this weekend.

Houston started its bid to succeed UCLA as the national champion last Saturday with a 94-76 victory over Chicago Loyola. UCLA, meanwhile, was winding up its regular schedule with a 72-64 triumph over Southern California and a 25-1 record.

St. Bonaventure, Columbia and Davidson also won first-round NCAA contests.

The final Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses and total points:

1. Houston (19)	253
2. UCLA (7)	241
3. St. Bonaventure	185
4. North Carolina	179
5. Kentucky	147
6. New Mexico	85
7. Columbia	82
8. Davidson	77
9. Louisville	70
10. Duke	42

More Cagers Passing Up Olympics

NEW YORK (AP) — The number of college basketball stars who will pass up their chance to make the U.S. Olympic team has grown to five while Life Magazine quotes Law Aieindor as "not wanting to get caught in the middle" of the growing Olympic boycott movement.

Westley Unseld, the two-time All-American from Louisville, said Monday in Louisville, Ky. that he was "weary" from playing and that he would pass up the Olympic trials later this month in Albuquerque, N.M.

Concentrating on school work was the reason given by Aieindor and his UCLA teammates Mike Warren and Lucius Allen for not trying out for the team. But Life said the trio admitted their refusal was "implicit approval of the boycott."

J. D. Morgan, athletic director at UCLA, said the three players' decision not to enter the trials "was entirely scholastic. They'd miss eight days of school they couldn't afford to miss," Morgan said.

Aieindor, Warren, Allen and Unseld are Negroes. The fifth player to say he would not try out for the Olympic team was Neal Walk of Florida who is white.

In New York Monday, Columbia Coach Jack Rohan said his star sophomore, Jim McMillan, was also considering passing up the trials to concentrate on studying. McMillan is a Negro.

Rockets and Colonels Win Key Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There go the Denver Rockets and here come the Kentucky Colonels.

Both teams won crucial American Basketball Association games Monday night. The Rockets defeated Dallas 119-105 and took a firmer grip on second place in the Western Division while the Colonels trounced Oakland 120-107 and climbed to within 1½ games of fourth-place New Jersey in the East.

No other games were scheduled.

In the National Basketball Association, Chicago turned back Cincinnati 104-98 and Boston bowled over Seattle 119-112.

Denver opened up a 35-22 lead over Dallas in the first period and pulled 1½ games ahead of the third-place Chaparrals and to within 2½ of division-leading New Orleans.

Larry Jones paced the Rockets with 26 points and Wayne Hightower added 23. Dallas Player-Coach Cliff Hagan had 31 in a losing cause.

Kentucky's hot shooting guards, Louie Dampier and Darrel Carrier, scored 30 and 28 points, respectively, in the Colonels' triumph over Oakland.

Carrier's tactical included two three-point baskets.

Jim Ligon added 21 points as the Colonels surged to a 10-point lead after one period and led the rest of the way. Andy Anderson had 24 for the Oaks, whose defeat dropped them into the Western Division cellar, a half-game behind Anaheim.

ABA Has Held Preliminary Cage Draft

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Although Commissioner George Mikan preferred to call it an "evaluation session," it was learned Monday that the American Basketball Association held a preliminary draft last week-end at Louisville.

Each of the 11 ABA clubs claimed negotiation rights to about four of the nation's top college players for purposes of trying to sign them to contracts as soon as their collegiate competition ends.

For some seniors this is not until the end of the NCAA, NIT and NAIA tournaments. Others have already finished this season's play.

"Technically, this is not our draft," Mikan said from ABA headquarters here. "We had an evaluation session of ballplayers. We exchanged notes, getting ourselves prepared for our annual draft, which will be April 27 in Los Angeles."

"We had to allow our people to start talking to some of these players as soon as they become available. I at least want our boys to have a chance to talk to them. We don't want to lose them before we have a chance to talk to them."

Alcorn Ends Any Hope for Henderson

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Alcorn A&M of Lorman, Miss., sparked by James Kelly and Julius Key, put a quick end to any Henderson dreams Monday by defeating the Reddies 79-71 in the first round of the NAIA basketball tournament.

Alcorn reeled off eight straight points in the final 68 seconds to clinch the decision. Henderson led 41-29 at the half but Alcorn gained a 62-61 lead with 7:01 left. Key scored 19 and Kelly 16 for Alcorn.

Henderson's Lou Wood was the game's top scorer with 20 points.

Larry Duckworth and Danny Davis, key men in Henderson's drive toward the Arkansas intercollegiate Conference championship, turned in disappointing performances. Duckworth scored seven points and Davis 11.

S. Africa Plans a Mixed Team

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — White and nonwhite selectors will meet here at the end of July to choose a mixed South African team for the Summer Olympics in Mexico City, the South African Amateur Athletic Union announced Monday night.

A committee headed by Matt Mare, president of the union, will select a mixed team after a July European tour by separate white and nonwhite teams. Some 41 nations have said they would boycott the Olympics over South Africa's apartheid policy.

Horton Is New Porker Frosh Coach

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Harold Horton, 28, who guided Forrest City to the Region 2AA championship last year, has been hired to assist with the freshman football team at the University of Arkansas.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles made the announcement Monday.

"I'm thankful for the opportunity," Horton said.

Horton, who is the first of Broyles' Razorbacks to return as a permanent coach, began job discussions with Broyles late last year.

"I'd thought he might have a job for me somewhere else," Horton said. "I didn't dream I might get in with them at the university."

Broyles said Horton had distinguished himself in the high school coaching ranks and had earned the respect of coaches throughout the state. He also said Horton would be an asset to the Razorback staff.

Horton played on the 1959-60-61 Arkansas teams. The Razorbacks won or shared the Southwest Conference title those three years.

Horton won two District 2A championships at Bald Knob in three years and compiled a six-year coaching record of 41-18-5.

Whites Are Assured of Tie for Title

Coach John Henley's White team clinched at least a tie for the championship in youth league basketball Saturday by putting the stubborn Blues down 20-16.

The outcome was in doubt most of the way. The difference came late in the game as the Whites hit free throws to sew it up. The Greens moved into second place with a 10-5 victory over the Reds.

The Greens could tie for 1st on the final day should they beat the Blues and the Reds beat the Whites. A large and enthusiastic crowd watched Saturdays action.

Senators Are Bigger But Not Better

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — If basketball or football was the Washington Senators' game, they'd be a tough bunch to bring down.

Physically, the 1968 Senators should dwarf American League rivals—from 6-foot-5 Jim Lemon, their rookie manager, down the line. If they stand half as tall against opposing pitchers, Washington could muscle into the first division for the first time in 22 years.

Gil Hodges accomplished a minor miracle last year, piloting the Senators to a share of sixth place. Then he moved on to New York, where the Mets were sorely in need of a miracle worker.

Lemon, former Washington outfielder and Minnesota coach, inherits a team that batted .223, worst in the majors, and had the second lowest pitching rating in the American League.

Big Jim could sustain the upward swing started by his predecessor. If the king-size Senators add a few points to their bite-size batting averages and the pitchers trim down their fat ERAs.

Frank Howard, the man mountain of the Washington outfield at 6-7 and 260 pounds, provided most of the offensive punch last season, batting .256, slamming 36 homers and driving in 89 runs. He'll be back in left field after a 10-day holdout that netted him a $47,500 salary—highest in the club's history.

First baseman Mike Epstein, who fell short of his rave rookie notices after Baltimore dealt him to the Senators, stands 6-3½ and has trimmed down from 230 to 220 pounds. Rookie second baseman Frank Coggins is 6-2 and 185; recently acquired shortstop Ron Hansen, 6-3 and 200, and returning third sacker Ken McMullen, 6-3 and 195.

Fred Valentine, Hank Allen, Cap Peterson, Sam Bowens, Ed Stroud and rookie Del Unser, candidates for the other two outfield positions, average 6-1 and 190. Regular catcher Paul Casanova comes in at 6-4, 200, and Bill Bryan, his probable back-up man, is 6-4 and 215. Reliever Casey Cox, 6-5, is high man on a tall order pitching staff.

Epstein, who hit only .226, with nine homers, in 105 games with Washington, could be the key to the Senators' 1968 prospects. "He was too tight—trying too hard to make good," Lemon said. "All he has to do is relax, be himself, and he'll be the hitter he was when he was Mr. All-Everything in the minors."

Coggins came up from Hawaii at the tail end of the season and swatted .307. Subsequently, the Senators traded holdover second baseman Tim Lincecum to the Chicago White Sox for Hansen, whose .233 mark was 45 points higher than glove man Ed Brinkman hit for Washington.

"Hansen gives us another bat in the infield," said General Manager George Selkirk. "He does most of his hitting when it counts most."

McMullen got the most out of a .245 average, drilling 16 homers and accounting for 67 RBI. Casanova, a workhorse in 141 games behind the plate, had 53 RBI and a .248 mark.

Bowens, acquired from the Orioles, will battle returnees Valentine, .234, Allen, .233, Peterson, .240, and Stroud, .212, for the right and center field posts. Unser, up from the Eastern League, also could make the club, along with utility men Bob Saverine, Dick Nen, Bernie Al-

ANYWHERE ONE TRAVELS, the chances of seeing Al Silvani, either in person or on film, are good. He is a fight trainer who has helped handle Nino Benvenuti (upper left) among 19 other champions, plays character roles (upper right) in Hollywood, and has been assistant director in such films as "Funny Girl" with Barbara Streisand (bottom).

Robinson Pushes Bulls Step Closer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flynn Robinson's last-minute heroics pushed the Chicago Bulls a step closer to a playoff berth, but his former Cincinnati mates didn't appreciate the move.

Robinson, who came to the Bulls from the Royals earlier in the season, flipped in a basket and a pair of free throws in the final minute, sending the Bulls to a 104-98 National Basketball Association victory over Cincinnati.

In the only other game Monday night, Boston topped Seattle 119-112.

In the American Basketball Association action, Kentucky defeated Oakland, 120-107 and Denver stopped Dallas, 119-105.

Chicago's magic number — a combination of Chicago wins or Seattle losses — for a Western Division playoff spot is now two over the fifth-place SuperSonics. The Bulls have seven games left, Seattle six.

Cincinnati, battling for the last playoff spot in the Eastern Division, dropped to fifth place, and trails Detroit by one game. Baltimore is only one percentage point behind the Royals in the torrid race.

Oscar Robertson kept the Royals in contention with 37 points, including 13 in the last quarter when the Royals got within four points with a minute remaining to play, after trailing 48-73.

But Robinson, who had 19 points, then came through with his key points, Barry Clemens added a bucket at the buzzer for the Bulls.

Bob Boozer also had 19 points and McCoy McLemore 18, in the Bulls' balanced scoring attack.

John Havlicek paced the Celtics with 27 points. Boston took a 62-53 halftime lead but the Sonics bounced back and early in the final quarter went ahead at 95-94 on Rod Thorn's jumper.

But Bill Russell got Boston the lead again 30 seconds later and the Celtics never were headed.

With an average of 27.3 points per game, Bing is well ahead of runner-up Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles who has a 25.9 point average. Wilt Chamberlain is equally assured of winning the field-goal percentage title. His present percentage is .584.

len and Bob Chance.

The pitching staff, led by veterans Camilo Pascual, 2-10, and Phil Ortega, 10-10, and newcomers Dick Bosman, 3-1, and Frank Bertina, 7-6, shows promise despite a mediocre combined ERA of 3.38 last year. Relief ace Darold Knowles was snatched by the Air Force, but Dave Baldwin, 1-70 ERA, will be back in the bullpen with Cox and winter pickup Dennis Higgins.

Vietnamese Kill Vote of Confidence

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — A move to force the South Vietnamese House of Representatives to consider a no confidence vote against the government has been killed for the time being, House officials said today.

The officials announced that a number of representatives had withdrawn their signatures from a petition which would have put on the House agenda a discussion of whether or not to call a vote of no confidence.

Last week, backers of the petition had collected more than 50 signatures, well above the one-third of the 135 members required to bring the petition before the house.

Several politicians thought the government of President Nguyen Van Thieu had pressured some of the representatives into withdrawing their signatures.

A few signers said they had decided this was not the proper time to bring a motion of no confidence. They added, however, that they could decide to sign again later.

Meanwhile, informed sources said today the Thieu government plans to remove as many as 15 of South Vietnam's 44 province chiefs. The government announced Monday that six province chiefs had been fired.

IOC to Talk Over African Problem

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — A majority of the members of the International Olympics Committee's executive board has called for a meeting of the entire IOC to consider the South African problem, but IOC President Avery Brundage says no.

Any decision to call a meeting of the full IOC will have to be made by the board when it meets to discuss the withdrawal of more than 40 nations because of the IOC's decision to readmit South Africa to the Mexico games in October.

"It is possible for the president to call a full meeting, but Anyone can work a squeeze play successfully and every one does. Experts plan squeezes. At trick one, fair players see them later, really bad players may work a squeeze by complete accident and may not even know that they have done so.

Usually the squeeze is made by declarer, but once in awhile the defense produces one. Today's hand is an example. South's choice of two no-trump as his rebid was poor. With a mere seven points, he should have contented himself with a two-heart or two-spade call, but South fancied his own dummy play.

Any North or South contract was going to be wrecked on the rocks of distribution, but South really outdid himself when he managed to go down four. The play started nicely for him when he won the first diamond with his 10. Then he lost the heart finesse. East returned the seven of spades. South's eight was covered by West's 10 and North's king. South continued by a spade to his ace and the jack of spades to knock out West's queen. At that point, South suddenly noticed that he had to discard from dummy but solved that problem by letting a low heart go. East discarded the eight of clubs.

West saw that his side's club tricks would keep and returned his last heart. South took dummy's two hearts. He let a club go on the second heart. Then he led dummy's last heart. East was in again and South dropped the seven of diamonds.

East thought awhile and decided that South's entire play had marked West with the king of clubs. He led a low club. West returned the suit. East cashed the ace and jack of clubs. South had to come down to two cards and discovered he was squeezed. He had to chuck the high spade or go down to one diamond, and West was sitting back of him with a low spade and the ace-jack of diamonds. South did discard a diamond. West threw his small spade and made the last two tricks with diamonds.

Cataracts Are Part Of Aging Process

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

I have incipient cataracts, bilateral. What does that mean? How long does it take for a cataract to form? Can it be dissolved without an operation?

A—You have beginning cataracts in both eyes. Cataracts develop at an uneven rate that varies from months to years in different persons. Although the opacity in the lens cannot be dissolved, an enzyme is sometimes used to dissolve the attachment of the lens to its surrounding capsule. This makes it possible to remove the cataract without waiting for it to "ripen" as was done in former times.

Q—What causes a cataract? If one can see all right even though a cataract is present should the cataract be removed or is it better to wait? Is there any drug, such as nydridin, that will slow the development of a cataract? Can a cataract be treated with ultra-sound?

A—Cataracts are a part of the aging process. They are found in an ever-increasing percentage of persons in each age group past 50. The incidence is higher in persons, such as glass blowers and stokers, who are exposed to great heat or intense light than in the general population. Living in a hot, dry climate is also a causative factor. In some persons, taking large doses of drugs of the cortisone group and others has caused cataracts.

If your vision is good in either eye it is best to postpone cataract removal. This is because, following removal, a special type of lens must be worn. Good bilateral vision cannot be obtained unless this type of lens is used for both eyes.

Nydridin increases the blood flow to parts where it is deficient but, since the lens contains no blood vessels at all, neither this nor any other drug will arrest the progress of a cataract. A lens that has been removed will not return.

A new technique that uses an ultrasonic needle has been developed. The vibrations break up the lens and it can then be sucked out through the same needle that delivered the ultrasonic waves. Although this is believed by some to be the best method of treatment, it is too new to have been widely adopted.

Q—Is the use of a freezing probe the best way to remove a cataract?

A—Authorities differ with regard to this method. Each surgeon must use the method that works best for him.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Gold Buying Is Heavy in Europe

LONDON (AP) — Heavy gold buying continued on the London and Zurich markets today, but the pound and the dollar improved.

British financial experts estimated that hoarders now hold more gold than the combined supply of the United States and the other six of the international gold pool.

Demand at today's price fixing in London was said to be about double that at Monday's opening, when just under 10 tons was bought. The day's total was believed to have been more than 25 tons.

The dollar price at the fixing eased one fourth of a cent, to $35.19, and the pound opened 30 points higher on the London foreign exchange market, at $2.3985. It eased off to $2.3965 at noon.

Pressure on gold also continued on the Zurich market, and banking sources here said there was no indication of a letup.

Both the dollar and the pound opened slightly stronger, however.

The pound and the dollar also improved on the Paris market, the pound up 120 points to 11,7925 francs and the dollar up 37 points to 4,9215 francs.

Plane With 52 Aboard Hijacked

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A National Airlines plane was hijacked today and flown to Cuba, the Federal Aviation Agency reported.

The plane, Flight 28 from Tampa to Miami, was diverted while flying over Fort Myers, on Florida's southwest coast, according to Paul Boatman, area manager of the agency.

The DC8 landed in Cuba at 12:26 p.m. EST, Boatman said. The plane carried 52 passengers and seven crewmen, the agency said.

It left Tampa at 11:32 a.m.

Wouldn't Open for Opening

CARLINVILLE, Ill. (AP) — When officials opened the Farmers and Merchants National Bank Monday they found the bank vault wouldn't open.

So they went across the street and borrowed a substantial amount of money from the Carlinville National Bank. The money—an interest-free loan—carried Farmers and Merchants through until noon when experts arrived from St. Louis, 50 miles south, and opened the vault. The loan was then returned to Carlinville National.

Obviously the domestic problems of Southeast Asia which he talks about are not for us. Our job is simply to make good on our solemn word to uphold law and order and defend self-government so that Asians may eventually solve their own domestic problems.

Jobless Rate Edges Upward

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate, which hit a 15-year low for January, edged upward again in February to 3.7 per cent of the labor force, the Labor Department reported today.

At the same time, total employment rose by about 800,000 to a total of 74.1 million, the monthly report showed. The number of unemployed in February was put at 3.3 million, the same as the seasonally adjusted number for December.

The rate of joblessness, at 3.7 per cent, was the same as for December and for February 1967. It had declined to 3.5 per cent for January.

Arthur M. Ross, commissioner of labor statistics, attributed the increased jobless rate primarily to an increase in the number of teen-age job seekers, about three-fourths of whom were looking for part-time work.

Nearly half of the 550,000 increase in nonfarm payroll employment was in contract construction, where employment increased by 250,000 to reach a record high of 3.5 million.

Both Against Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. J. William Fulbright and John L. McClellan, both Arkansas Democrats, voted against the civil rights bill Monday.

The measure was passed by the Senate and returned to the House.

Define Role of Congress, Rusk Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp dispute flared today between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Sen. J. W. Fulbright over whether Congress should have a voice in deciding on any major increase in the U.S. fighting force in Vietnam.

Rusk said he was opposed to "giving the enemy all the information that can be developed at public hearings."

"Nothing could be more valuable in Hanoi or Moscow," he added.

Fulbright countered that "I'm not interested in the tactics of this war."

He said his concern was policy and asked: "Are we now going to escalate this war?"

The exchange came in the second day of testimony by Rusk on war policy before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, headed by Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat.

The session Monday produced intensive criticism of U.S. policy in Vietnam from a majority of committee members. Rusk stood firm on the administration views but said they were under review "from A to Z" in the wake of the recent Viet Cong offensive.

Fulbright reserved most of his questions for today and became embroiled in the dispute with Rusk moments after the hearing opened in the crowded hearing room.

Fulbright told the secretary: "The Senate should be informed fully of the policy this administration intends to follow."

He said the consultation should come before any decisions are made.

Fulbright again cited reports that President Johnson is considering sending up to 200,000 additional troops to Vietnam. A total of 525,000 men is now authorized.

Liquor Sale to Minor Probed

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Judge Harry Crumpler of Magnolia said Monday there had been ample evidence that alcoholic beverages had been made available to young people in Union County and charged the Union County Grand Jury to investigate the situation.

Crumpler empaneled the 16-member jury Monday. He told the jurors that they would "remain on duty until all violations in the county have reached a minimum."

Can't Figure All the Fuss About Posing for Playboy

By JERRY BUCK
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — The American male who has trouble thinking of Stella Stevens without remembering that she posed nude for a men's magazine should think about this: She plays a nun in her next movie.

Stella has appeared three times in Playboy magazine layouts, but she says she's still hard put to figure out what all the fuss is about. "What really is the big deal about it?" she asks.

She sees it strictly as an investment. "If some of the people who see the layouts remember your name and see you in a movie you couldn't buy that kind of publicity for any amount of money."

But when she is pressed she does admit that she is a little bit pleased by the fact that many people still find nudity shocking. "If nudity was just really so passe, you know, that would take all the fun out of it," she said.

Anyone who's seen Stella in the magazine may not recognize her immediately in her next film. The nun's habit she wears

Rusk Keeps His Poise Even When Dueling With Sen. Fulbright

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The questions at times were as hot as the television lights, but Secretary of State Dean Rusk never lost his cool in six hours before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Even at the end, when he and Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., duelled verbally over whether the secretary would come back to finish his testimony, Rusk's voice remained calm and his demeanor placid.

"I wonder if it isn't really possible to finish tonight?" Rusk said, adding that he has a busy schedule the rest of the week.

"We all have busy schedules," Fulbright said. "Every one is exhausted, particularly with the lights." Five shone steadily in Rusk's eyes, and, unlike Fulbright, he had left his sunglasses home.

Finally, facing a threat from Fulbright to scuttle the administration's foreign-aid bill unless he returned—Rusk, still speaking without apparent rancor in his soft, Southern accent—agreed to extend his Monday appearance into today.

Occasionally mopping away perspiration caused by the lights, Rusk sat blank-faced through a number of scathing denunciations of the Vietnam policy he has helped to forge.

And his impassive expression remained as constant when several committee members rose to his defense.

Even a 10-minute tongue-lashing by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a fiery opponent of war policy, failed to noticeably ruffle Rusk's steadfast composure.

Morse shouted at Rusk that history would prove the United States provoked the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin incident, in which U.S. ships reported being attacked by North Vietnamese torpedo boats.

The incidents led to congressional adoption of a resolution the administration has often pointed to in explaining its subsequent escalation of the American military efforts.

Rusk quietly disagreed with Morse and painstakingly retraced the administration ver-

Freel Picked by Jaycees for Contest

Donald Wayne Freel, a Hope optometrist, has been selected by the Hope Jaycees to represent this area in the 1967 Arkansas Outstanding Young Men contest to be held Saturday night.

In ceremonies to be televised live from Little Rock, three men will be selected from thirty-three nominees as Arkansas Outstanding Young Men for 1967. The program is conducted by the Arkansas Jaycees.

Freel, 32, is a native of Texarkana. He graduated from the University of Houston in 1959 with a Doctor of Optometry degree.

He served two years in the Army, including fifteen months in Korea where he had charge of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat section of the 11th Evacuation Hospital in Pusan.

Upon his release, he moved to Dallas, Texas, for a short time before returning to Texarkana, where he opened his own practice.

When an automobile accident took the life of Hope optometrist, Dr. Harold Brents, he volunteered his services to the late doctor's patients. He subsequently closed his Texarkana practice and moved his family to Hope in 1961.

Freel has been active in the community since that time. He is a charter member of the Committee of 100. He is a charter member and director in the Hempstead County Association for Retarded Children.

This year, he is serving as vice president in the Hope-Hempstead County Chamber of Commerce.

Judges who will select the top three winners of the 1967 AOYM award are John Stroud, Texarkana attorney, Herbert McAdams of Jonesboro, chairman of the A.L.D.C., and Richard Udou, Fort Smith manufacturing executive.

Rights Bill Passed, Sent to House

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has received a Senate-passed civil rights bill and an appeal from President Johnson to enact the measure which includes landmark open-housing and antiriot provisions.

House leaders met Monday night, a few hours after the Senate passed the bill 71 to 20, to map plans for getting the measure through to the President.

The House originally passed the administration bill as a measure concerned only with providing federal protection to Negroes and civil rights workers.

But after seven weeks of Senate debate, the new version provides:

— A ban on discrimination in the sale or rental of all housing except owner-occupied single-family homes sold without the aid of a broker, or portions of dwellings sheltering up to four families provided the owner retains residence. This would mean about 80 per cent of the nation's housing to be covered.

— A federal law against crossing a state line and committing other acts to organize or aid in a riot and against involvement in the use or manufacture of guns and explosives for use in a riot.

The House must accept the Senate changes or seek a conference to reach a compromise version. The House also could delay action altogether.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee, and House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma met for 90 minutes Monday night with Speaker John W. McCormack on parliamentary maneuvers aimed at winning enactment.

In the Senate vote, 29 Republicans voted for the bill, while only 3 voted against it. Forty-two Democrats voted for it while 17 Democrats—all Southerners—opposed it.

State Rep. Talbot Feild Jr., Hope, said Monday that the second special session of the legislature this spring should try to find new methods of financing industrial development to reduce the impact of the federal government's crackdown on tax-exempt industrial development or have experience in the field would testify about possible solutions.

He said the hearings would produce information concerning the feasibility of security method of conventional or other types of industrial financing.

The Treasury Department Friday reversed a 1954 regulation that permitted industrial bonds issued in the name of state and localities to be exempt from taxation. The tax-exempt status of the bonds allows them to be sold at a lower interest rate than regular corporate bonds.

This will impair the effectiveness of two methods of Arkansas' industrial development program, Act 9 and Amendment 49. Act 9 authorizes cities and counties to issue revenue bonds to finance industrial construction. Amendment 49 allows cities and counties to issue ad valorem bonds for industry.

Mr. Feild said since these measures were enacted there have been 227 industrial plants established in Arkansas, representing an investment in excess of one-half billion dollars.
